A Message from the CEO

Dear Colleagues,

Since we started our journey as a standalone company in March 2018, Perimeter Solutions has achieved many significant milestones with the extraordinary effort, dedication and focus of our employees, managers, consultants, service providers and stakeholders. We are now poised to achieve another significant milestone in our growth as a company – we are now listed on the New York Stock Exchange as public company under the ticker symbol PRM. As we take our company forward into this next stage of growth and evolution, the company’s core values remain constant – People, Safety & Health, Integrity, Competing Honestly and Fairly and Quality. Perimeter Solutions takes pride in our unwavering commitment to the highest standards of ethics and integrity and we believe that these values will continue to help us serve our customers around the world with extraordinary products and exceptional service.

As we grow our profile and reach under the public eye, maintaining such high standards will become more difficult and will require the awareness and involvement of every employee. Each one of us, regardless of our position or our level of responsibility, as well as those who act on our behalf, must understand and comply with our standards. We must never forget that one single act from a bad actor can destroy the reputation we have worked hard to build and our public profile can amplify negative messaging. Even perceptions of ethical lapses in the public’s eye can be equally as damaging.

Our Business Conduct and Ethics Expectations Code sets forth guidance and valuable information to help ensure we maintain our highest standards of ethical conduct. The Code serves as our foundational policies for the Company - wherever we operate, whoever we interact with, and whatever business we are engaged in. All employees should be familiar with the information in this Code and should promptly raise any ethical questions or concerns with their managers, the Legal and Compliance Department, or other lines of reporting.

As we continue our next phase of growth, we will inevitably face difficult and unexpected situations. Regardless of how difficult our challenges may be, no situation can justify a willful violation of our Code. Our reputation as a leader in our industry and a responsible corporate citizen depends on our understanding, awareness and compliance with the Code.

Perimeter Solutions' success rests with its employees. We value the people that put their hard work and dedication into the company to make it a thriving business as well as a great place to work. As part of this commitment, Perimeter Solutions is committed to respecting and protecting legally established human rights wherever we operate. Discrimination of any form, based on race, color, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, status as a protected veteran or an individual with a disability, or any other legally protected characteristic of an individual will not be tolerated. This extends to co-workers, suppliers, customers and anyone who does business with the company. Discrimination is contrary to our values, creates an offensive or otherwise harmful work environment, and interferes with work performance.

ii. Anti-Harassment

iv. Culture of Non-Retaliation

Perimeter Solutions respects those who come forward with concerns and understands they play an important role in maintaining a healthy, respectful and productive workplace and in protecting our colleagues, shareholders, customers, suppliers and community. Raising concerns helps Perimeter Solutions address problems early – before potentially more serious consequences develop. Retaliation in any form against an individual who, in good faith, reports a violation of the Code or the law, or assists in the investigation of a reported concern, is a serious violation of this Code and the law. Perimeter Solutions' policy is to strictly prohibit any form of retaliation against anyone who raises a concern.

v. Privacy

As part of our business, Perimeter Solutions needs to collect personal information about employees, contractors, suppliers, customer or other individuals with whom we work. Personal information refers to information, in any format, that can be used to identify an individual. When we use personal information, we need to make sure we comply with all applicable laws. Many countries have privacy laws that impose specific obligations on the handling of personal information and apply to cross border transfer of personal information.

Perimeter Solutions follows the following guidelines when handling personal information:

- Legitimate Purpose: Personal information is collected or used for legitimate business purposes.
- Data Minimization: Perimeter Solutions collects information only to the extent necessary to accomplish the business purpose.
- Know the Rules: Perimeter Solutions is aware of, and complies with, all applicable legal and contractual obligations governing use of personal information.

b. Environmental, Safety, Health and Security

Perimeter Solutions is committed to conducting operations and activities in a manner that provides and maintains safe and healthy working conditions, protects the environment and conserves natural resources. In meeting this commitment, it is Perimeter Solutions' policy that no one shall engage in any conduct that violates any environmental, health and safety laws.

i. Substance abuse

Perimeter Solutions is committed to the safety, health and security of its employees and our operations. Misuse of alcohol and/or controlled substances is prohibited at all Perimeter Solutions sites. Using, selling, possessing, transferring, or manufacturing illegal drugs or unauthorized substances while on duty or on Perimeter Solutions business or property (including company vehicles) is strictly prohibited. Perimeter Solutions reserves the right to conduct drug and alcohol testing in accordance with applicable law and its policies.

ii. Violence in the Workplace

Perimeter Solutions does not tolerate acts of violence, including violence or physical threats, intimidation, harassment or coercion in the workplace. Perimeter Solutions' employees are also asked to be aware of erratic, abusive or hostile behavior and report concerns immediately to their managers, the Human Resources Department or the Legal Department.

iii. Culture

Perimeter Solutions is committed to continually improving the protection of the environment, safety, health and security of its customers, communities, contractors, and employees. We view this as an overriding priority.

Our safety culture is guided by the following principles:

- Nothing we do is worth injury to employees or damage to the environment
- Our operations and distribution systems are safe for site contractors, our guests and communities, ourselves and the environment at all times.
- Everyone actively participates in and makes positive contributions to safety, health, security and environmental performance.
- We develop, implement, and maintain effective environmental, health and safety management systems that reflect Perimeter Solutions policies and principles.
- We deliver products that are safe and environmentally sound when used responsibly.
- We partner with emergency response providers to protect people, property and information by securing our sites, cyber systems and product value chains.

In addition, the Company's leadership is expected to:

- Lead the ESHS effort through personal example
- Regularly inspect and reinforce desired ESHS conditions and actions
- Champion and improve components of the ESHS management system
- Develop and effectively resource ESHS improvement plans

It is Perimeter Solutions' belief that all incidents that could result in personal injury or illness are preventable. Together, the Company can achieve a safe and healthful work environment that protects the well-being of Perimeter Solutions' workers, contractors, the public, and the environment.

c. Integrityi. Preventing Bribery, Corruption and Kickbacks

Perimeter Solutions' relationship with its customers, suppliers and business partners creates significant value to the business and is the stepping stone to the growth and prosperity of the company. We are committed to maintaining our customers' trust in Perimeter Solutions, and the company will treat them with respect, honesty and integrity.

Perimeter Solutions is committed to conducting its business in an equal and transparent way – we do not tolerate any kind of improper influence, through bribery or any other illegal activity.

Perimeter Solutions frequently collaborates with government and commercial business partners in various aspects. We earn their trust and business through hard work and integrity, and we never seek to gain advantages through unfair, unethical or illegal business practices. Perimeter Solutions complies with all applicable laws designed to combat corruption wherever we conduct business, including the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and the UK Bribery Act 2010.

Perimeter Solutions, its employees or any of its agents may not offer, promise, give or authorize any sort of bribe or “kickback” in order to obtain or retain business or an improper business advantage on behalf of Perimeter Solutions. Perimeter Solutions also prohibits the use of “facilitating payments” to any government official to speed up or guarantee a routine action that the official is already obligated to perform.

ii. Mandatory Reporting Obligations Under U.S. Government Contracts

Perimeter Solutions is required by the Federal Acquisition Regulation (“FAR”) to disclose credible evidence of certain violations of law involving fraud, conflicts of interest, bribery or gratuities, in addition to other issues in connection with the award or performance of U.S. Government contracts. To comply with these obligations, Perimeter Solutions must immediately report any issues that could potentially constitute a violation of criminal or civil law, or a significant overpayment on a government contract or subcontract.

iii. Conflict of Interest

Perimeter Solutions employees, officers and directors have an obligation to act in the best interest of the company. All employees, officers and directors must avoid situations that involve, or that appear to involve, a potential or actual conflict between their interest and the interest of the company.

A “conflict of interest” occurs when a person's private interest interferes in any way, or even appears to interfere, with the interest of the company, including its subsidiaries and affiliates. A conflict of interest may arise when an employee, officer or director takes an action or has an interest that may make it difficult for him or her to perform his or her work objectively and effectively. Conflicts of interest may also arise when an employee, officer or director (or his or her family members) receives improper personal benefits as a result of the employee's, officer's or director's position in the company.

Although it would not be possible to describe every situation in which a conflict of interest may arise, the following are examples of situations that may constitute a conflict of interest:

- Working, in any capacity, for a competitor, customer or supplier while employed by the company
- Accepting gifts of more than modest value or receiving personal discounts (if such discounts are not generally offered to the public) or other benefits as a result of an employee's, officer's or director's position in the company from a competitor, customer or supplier.
- Competing with the company for the purchase or sale of property, products, services or other interests.
- Having an interest in a transaction involving the company, a competitor, a customer or supplier (other than as an employee, officer or director of the company and not including routine investments in publicly traded companies).
- Receiving a loan or guarantee of an obligation as a result of an employee's, officer's or director's position with the company.
- Directing business to a supplier owned or managed by, or which employs, a relative or friend.
- Supervising, working or conducting business with someone an employee, officer or director has a close personal relationship Situations involving a conflict of interest may not always be obvious or easy to resolve. Employees should report actions that may involve a conflict of interest to the Legal and Compliance Department.

In order to avoid conflicts of interests, executive officers and directors must disclose to the Legal and Compliance Department any material transaction or relationship that reasonably could be expected to give rise to such a conflict, and the Legal and Compliance Department shall notify the appropriate committee of the company's Board of any such disclosure. Conflicts of interests involving the Legal and Compliance Department and directors shall be disclosed to the company's Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee.

iv. Corporate Opportunities

Employees, officers and directors are prohibited from taking for themselves business opportunities that are discovered through the use of corporate property, information or position. No employee, officer or director may use corporate property, information or position for personal gain, and no employee, officer or director may compete with the company. Competing with the company may involve engaging in the same line of business as the company, or any situation where the employee, officer or director takes away from the company opportunities for sales or purchases of products, services or interests. Employees, officers and directors owe a duty to the company to advance its legitimate interests when the opportunity to do so arises.

v. Gifts and entertainment

Gifts and entertainment are used to strengthen business relationships, but Perimeter Solutions employees should not accept or offer them if doing so could affect, or create an appearance of affecting, impartial decision making. Perimeter Solutions' business transactions should always be free from even a perception that favorable treatment was sought, received or offered through gifts, favors, hospitality, entertainment or similar gratuities. This is particularly important when dealing with government employees. Our definition of business courtesies, gifts and hospitality is broad and includes tickets, fees or passes to sporting or cultural events, lodging, meals, door prizes and other items of value. While it is sometimes permissible and appropriate to exchange business courtesies, gifts or hospitality, we must all understand who we are interacting with and the related limitations. Any gifts and entertainment requests should be sent to the Legal Department prior to such event for assessment and approval.

1. Gifts and entertainment with U.S. government representatives

The U.S. Government is our largest customer, and we must respect the special laws surrounding contracting with it. With few exceptions, U.S. Government agencies have strict prohibitions against their employees accepting any business courtesies. Therefore, except as otherwise permitted by law or regulation, we are prohibited from offering or providing any business courtesy, including meals, entertainment, travel or lodging expenses to any U.S. Government employee or representative. Modest refreshments, such as soft drinks, tea, coffee and fruit, offered on an occasional basis in conjunction with business activities may be acceptable. If we deal with representatives of a particular federal agency, we are responsible for complying with that agency's standards of conduct. Where there is a question as to a particular agency's standards of conduct, employees must contact the Legal Department in advance for guidance.

2. Gifts and entertainment with employees and officials of non-U.S. governments

Employees and officials of non-U.S. governments are subject to local laws and regulations, as well as their specific agencies or departments. Please consult with the Legal Department for information on local laws and regulations, and before offering anything of value to such employees.

We must also be careful when retaining third-party intermediaries or agents to represent our interests outside the United States. Please consult with the Legal Department when engaging such parties outside the United States.

3. Gifts and entertainment with non-government persons

We may provide meals, refreshments or entertainment of reasonable value to non-government persons in support of business activities, provided:

- The business courtesy is not offered for favorable treatment.
- The courtesy does not violate any law, regulation or the standards of conduct of the recipient's organization. It is our responsibility to inquire about any prohibitions or limitations applicable to the recipient's organization before offering any business courtesy.
- The courtesy is consistent with marketplace practices, infrequent in nature and is not lavish or extravagant. It cannot cause embarrassment or reflect negatively on Perimeter Solutions' reputation.

vi. Human Rights

Perimeter Solutions is committed to protection and advancement of human rights wherever we operate. We commit to conduct our business in an ethical and responsible manner that supports and respects the protection of human rights. We identify and do business with partners that aspire to conduct their business in a similar manner, and we ensure that our products are manufactured in conditions that demonstrate respect for the people who make them.

Perimeter Solutions does not tolerate the use of child or forced labor, slavery or human trafficking in any of its global operations and facilities. We also do not tolerate the exploitation of children or the trafficking, physical punishment, abuse or involuntary servitude of any worker. Perimeter Solutions conducts due diligence on potential suppliers, service providers, consultants and any third-party businesses that we do or plan to do business with to assess risks with child labor, slavery or human trafficking. Perimeter Solutions will not do business with any third parties who pose a significant risk in these areas. Perimeter Solutions expect our suppliers, service providers, consultants and agents to uphold the same high standards that we do.

d. Competing Honestly and Fairly

i. Competition and Antitrust

We are committed to competing fairly, with integrity, and conducting our business in compliance with all applicable competition and antitrust laws.

Perimeter Solutions will not:

- Communicate with competitors to discuss prices, allocate markets, boycott customers or suppliers or limit production of services for anti-competitive purposes.
- Make false statements about our competitors.
- Receive or use our competitors' proprietary information, including pricing information.

ii. Political contributions

Perimeter Solutions respects personal participation in the political process by our employees. However, that involvement and participation in the political process must be on an individual basis, on the employee's own time and at his/her own expense. Many countries prohibit corporations from donating corporate funds, goods or services (including employees' work time), directly or indirectly, to political candidates or parties. No one may be reimbursed directly or indirectly by the company for personal political contributions.

"Lobbying" involves communications with legislators, regulators or their staff in an effort to influence legislative or certain other administrative actions. Lobbying activities are subject to specific rules that cover a wide range of activities. All contacts with lobbyists and public officials are coordinated through Perimeter Solutions' Legal Department, and all lobbying activities are properly disclosed according to applicable laws and regulations.

iii. Charitable Activities

Perimeter Solutions believes in giving back to its global communities, and the company encourages its employees to be actively involved in local activities. Devoting time, energy and resources to improving and enriching these communities is an extension of the company's core values. As such, the company recognizes and respects its employees' individual rights to be involved in personal charitable activities.

iv. Trade Controls

Perimeter Solutions conducts business on an international scale. Various governments have established trade controls that restrict certain business transactions and the movement of certain goods across national borders to prevent terrorism, halt the proliferation of weapons and fight narcotics trafficking and other crimes.

Perimeter Solutions abides by all trade controls applicable to our business. We strive to follow U.S. export controls, trade restrictions, economic sanctions and anti-boycott laws where we do business, as well as regional and local trade controls wherever applicable.

v. Competing for US Government Contracts

The rules for doing business with the U.S. Government are complex and stricter than those of commercial customers. We comply with all the laws, regulations and rules that apply to activities related to contracting with the U.S. Government.

1. Submission of Claims to the U.S. Government

The law provides for significant damages and penalties for any government contractor who knowingly submits false claims to the government. "Knowingly" means: "Claims that are intentionally inaccurate, Claims that are recklessly submitted without verification that the work was performed in compliance with the requirements, and Claims submitted without verifying the information is accurate." The laws and regulations associated with doing business with the government are varied and complex. In all circumstances, Perimeter Solutions works to ensure full compliance with applicable requirements, and we carefully review any claims for payment prior to submission.

2. Byrd Amendment

This law prohibits the use of contract payments to pay any person for influencing, or attempting to influence, officials of the executive or legislative branches of the U.S. Government (including members of Congress and their staffs) in connection with the award or modification of U.S. Government contracts. Any questions about payments related to Government Contracts should be raised with Perimeter Solutions' Legal Department.

3. Competing for government business

The Procurement Integrity Act provides a series of prohibitions designed to protect the integrity of the procurement process by ensuring that competitors for government contracts compete on a level playing field. This is done by safeguarding access to competitive information and imposing post-employment restrictions on certain current and former government employees. Specifically, during a competition, the Act prohibits government officials from disclosing to Perimeter Solutions, without written authorization, any other contractor's bid or proposal information or the government's internal source selection information. To the extent the company bids for is involved with companies that are under the regulation of the Procurement Integrity Act, Perimeter Solutions employees will be prohibited from improperly seeking or obtaining those types of information. These prohibitions also restrict employment discussions with current or former U.S. Government personnel involved in competitions in which Perimeter Solutions has an interest.

4. Truthful cost or pricing data

All cost or pricing data in support of Perimeter Solutions proposals must be accurate, complete and current as of the date of final agreement on price. Cost or pricing data are defined very broadly by law and can include information we have developed or received even if we do not use it in a proposal. Whether we are the contract negotiator, the cost estimator or the person responsible for furnishing data to the cost estimator, we must ensure that the data meets the Federal Acquisition Regulation (“FAR”) requirements. Any submission of cost or pricing data in conjunction with a government contract needs to be approved by the Legal Department and an executive team member.

5. Restrictions regarding employing current and former government personnel

There are a series of laws and regulations that limit the ability to discuss employment or consulting opportunities with individuals who are currently employees of the U.S. Government. In general, the applicable laws and regulations prohibit any government contractor from gaining a competitive advantage or obtaining “inside” government information from government employees by engaging in employment discussions. Similarly, there are strict prohibitions on the work that certain former government personnel may do for Perimeter Solutions. Any hiring decisions relating to former or current U.S. Government employees must be subject to Legal Department review and approval.

vi. Protecting Perimeter Solutions’ Proprietary Information and Intellectual Property

Perimeter Solutions’ continued success and future growth depends on innovative products and solutions. To achieve a sustained competitive advantage for the company’s business, we must protect the company’s proprietary information and intellectual property against theft, misuse and loss.

Proprietary information is information that the company wishes to keep confidential and protected against unauthorized use or disclosure. It includes, for example, non-public financial reports, privileged information, business strategies and pricing information.

Protecting our company’s intellectual property and proprietary information, which could provide our company with a competitive advantage, is crucial to our continued success. Intellectual property and proprietary information are considered company assets as valuable as money or tangible property and must be protected at all times.

This includes:

- Using Perimeter Solutions’ brand and trademark in accordance with company policy.

- Honoring our commitment to information security. We do not share proprietary or other confidential information with anyone— even within our company—unless there is a business need to do so. Similarly, we do not seek or use any information to which we are not entitled.
- Reporting any concerns about Perimeter Solutions’ intellectual property being infringed, misused or misappropriated.
- Respecting trade secrets, copyrights, trademarks, patent rights and proprietary information of third parties by avoiding unlawful use or infringement.

Employees must protect Perimeter Solutions’ intellectual property. Disclosure of these proprietary assets may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination without notice and the pursuit of legal action against the employee.

vii. Trading on Inside Information

As a U.S. public company, Perimeter Solutions must comply with U.S. securities laws. This includes complying with prohibitions on “insider trading”. Using non-public, company information to trade in securities, or providing a family member, friend or any other person with a “tip”, is illegal. All non-public, company information should be considered inside information and should never be used for personal gain or to enable others to gain from trades in our stock. Perimeter Solutions employees are required to familiarize themselves and comply with the company’s Insider Trading Policy, copies of which are distributed to all employees, officers and directors and are available from the Legal and Compliance Department. Perimeter Solutions employees should contact the Legal and Compliance Department with any questions about buying or selling securities.

viii. Quality of Public Disclosures

The company has a responsibility to provide full and accurate information in its public disclosures, in all material respects, about the company’s financial condition and results of operations. Our reports and documents filed with or submitted to the Securities and Exchange Commission and our other public communications shall include full, fair, accurate, timely and understandable disclosure.

e. Quality

i. Producing Quality Products

To ensure we meet our quality commitments to our customers, we focus on:

getting it right, doing what we are going to do, and delivering on results our customers expect. We make quality a priority by understanding what is required of us in our daily work and striving to do it right the first time.

- No Shortcuts: Perimeter Solutions understands that doing a job right means how we do our work is as important as what we do. We understand that the decision to take shortcuts because of cost or schedule should never be made at the expense of quality. If Perimeter Solutions has an issue or a risk with a process, we encourage employees to speak up.

Earn trust and drive performance: When we focus on quality, we earn the trust of our colleagues and our customers. Perimeter Solutions' constant focus and detailed attention to do the right thing helps improve the overall performance of the company.

The company's Quality Statement can be found below:

f. Compliance with this Code and Reporting of Any Illegal or Unethical Behavior

i. Reporting of Any Illegal or Unethical Behavior

All employees, directors and officers are expected to comply with all of the provisions of this Code. The Code will be strictly enforced and violations will be dealt with immediately, including by subjecting persons who violate its provisions to corrective and/or disciplinary action such as dismissal or removal from office. Violations of the Code that involve illegal behavior will be reported to the appropriate authorities.

Situations which may involve a violation of ethics, laws, rules, regulations or this Code may not always be clear and may require the exercise of judgment or the making of difficult decisions. Employees, officers and directors should promptly report any concerns about a violation of ethics, laws, rules, regulations or this Code to their supervisors/managers or the Legal and Compliance Department or, in the case of accounting, internal accounting controls or auditing matters. Interested parties may also communicate directly with the company's non-management directors through contact information located in the company's annual report on Form 10-K.

Any concerns about a violation of ethics, laws, rules, regulations or this Code by any executive officer or director should be reported promptly to the General Counsel, and the General Counsel shall notify the appropriate committee of the company's Board of any violation.

Any such concerns involving the General Counsel should be reported to the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee. Reporting of such violations may also be done anonymously through the company hotline: perimeter-solutions.ethicspoint.com or by telephone : (844)950-2833. An anonymous report should provide enough information about the incident or situation to allow the company to investigate properly. If concerns or complaints require confidentiality, including keeping an identity anonymous, the company will endeavor to protect this confidentiality, subject to applicable law, regulation or legal proceedings.

The company encourages all employees, officers and directors to report any suspected violations promptly and intends to thoroughly investigate any good faith reports of violations. The company will not tolerate any kind of retaliation for reports or complaints regarding misconduct that were made in good faith. Open communication of issues and concerns by all employees without fear of retribution or retaliation is vital to the successful implementation of this Code. All employees, officers and directors are required to cooperate in any internal investigations of misconduct and unethical behavior.

The company recognizes the need for this Code to be applied equally to everyone it covers. The General Counsel of the company will have primary authority and responsibility for the enforcement of this Code, subject to the supervision of the company's Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee, or, in the case of accounting, internal accounting controls or auditing matters, the company's Audit Committee of the company's Board of Directors, and the company will devote the necessary resources to enable the General Counsel to establish such procedures as may be reasonably necessary to create a culture of accountability and facilitate compliance with the Code. Questions concerning this Code should be directed to the Legal and Compliance Department.

ii. Reporting to a Government Agency

Perimeter Solutions employees understand that they have the right to:

- Report possible violations of state or federal law or regulation that have occurred, are occurring, or are about to occur to any governmental agency or entity, or self-regulatory organization;
- Cooperate voluntarily with, or respond to any inquiry from, or provide testimony before any self-regulatory organization or any other federal, state or local regulatory or law enforcement authority;
- Make reports or disclosures to law enforcement or a regulatory authority without prior notice to, or authorization from, the company; and
- Respond truthfully to a valid subpoena.

Perimeter Solutions employees have the right to not be retaliated against for reporting, either internally to the company or to any governmental agency or entity or self-regulatory organization, information which an employee reasonably believe relates to a possible violation of law. It is a violation of federal law to retaliate against anyone who has reported such potential misconduct either internally or to any governmental agency or entity or self-regulatory organization. Retaliatory conduct includes discharge, demotion, suspension, threats, harassment, and any other manner of discrimination in the terms and conditions of employment because of any lawful act a Perimeter Solutions employee may have performed. It is unlawful for the company to retaliate against an employee for reporting possible misconduct either internally or to any governmental agency or entity or self-regulatory organization.

Notwithstanding anything contained in this Code or otherwise, an employee may disclose confidential company information, including the existence and terms of any confidential agreements between a Perimeter Solutions' employee and the company (including employment or severance agreements), to any governmental agency or entity or self-regulatory organization.

The company cannot require an employee to withdraw reports or filings alleging possible violations of federal, state or local law or regulation, and the company may not offer an employee any kind of inducement, including payment, to do so.

A Perimeter Solutions employee's rights and remedies as a whistleblower protected under applicable whistleblower laws, including a monetary award, if any, may not be waived by any agreement, policy form or condition of employment, including by a pre-dispute arbitration agreement.

Even if an employee has participated in a possible violation of law, he or she may be eligible to participate in the confidentiality and retaliation protections afforded under applicable whistleblower laws, and he or she may also be eligible to receive an award under such laws.

iii. Waivers and Amendments

Any waiver of this Code for employees may only be granted by the Legal and Compliance Department. Material amendments to this Code must be approved by the Corporate Governance Committee of the Board of Directors and such amendments of the provisions in this Code will also be promptly disclosed to the company's shareholders.
